You will feel right at home in this townhouse designed for the active retiree seeking comfort, convenience, and spectacular mountain views. Step inside to discover rich, Southwest-inspired tile flooring that flows gracefully throughout the main living areas. Impressive 12-foot ceilings, clerestory windows, and strategically placed skylights fill the home with natural light, establishing a warm, inviting atmosphere. The efficient U-shaped kitchen features stainless-steel appliances and a dining nook with captivating views of the surrounding desert landscape and mountains, ideal for casual dining. An arched opening above the kitchen sink connects the kitchen and living area, facilitating conversation and social interaction with family and guests. The primary suite is notably spacious, with an extension that can serve multiple purposes, such as a cozy sitting area, hobby room, exercise space, or office. The guest bedroom and bath are thoughtfully located in a separate wing to ensure privacy. Step outside to your east-facing patio where unobstructed views of the Santa Rita Mountains await. Mornings begin with breathtaking sunrises, while evenings offer a chance to unwind as vibrant desert sunsets cast unique colors across the sky. Nestled in a gated community, residents benefit from exclusive access to the pool just down the street, along with
